Introduction

Through my current role as Lead Product Designer, I bring a proven track record of steering the user experience direction and design vision for digital products.

With full-stack design expertise, I excel from ideation to product release. My leadership extends to cross-product strategy, design delivery, and mentoring other designers.

Notably, my transformative design leadership has enhanced user experiences in vast industries. In addition to my proficiency in design, I bring extensive experience in web development, contributing to a holistic understanding of the digital landscape.
